EPISODE 1: MY HEALTHY MORNING ROUTINE • STUDY COMPANION

[Intro]

Hello everyone. Welcome to the first episode of The Easy Listening Podcast. In this podcast, you will listen, and then you will repeat after me. You will repeat after me. This will help you practice your pronunciation, your accent, and your confidence when speaking English. I will speak slowly and clearly during the whole podcast. Let's get started.

The Golden Rule of Language Learning: Shadowing

Shadowing is a powerful language learning technique where you repeat after a native speaker immediately after hearing them. This active reproduction helps train your mouth muscles, refines your pronunciation, adapts your accent, and accelerates conversational confidence. As you read and listen to this guide, focus on mimicry and speak aloud during the highlighted repeat segments.

[Section 1: What is a Routine?]

So, recently I decided to change my morning routine. A routine is something you do every day. It is a habit. What is a routine? A routine is a habit.

The first thing I do when I wake up is drink a large glass of water. Water is very important for your body.

I drink water before I drink coffee. Some people prefer coffee, and some people prefer tea.

What do you prefer? After I drink my water, I make breakfast. During our trip to a healthy life, we should eat delicious food. Some of my favorite breakfast foods include oatmeal, eggs, fruit, and yogurt. Those are my four favorite breakfast foods.

Practice Shadowing (Repeat Aloud):

What are your favorite foods? Let me know. Make a sentence: "My favorite breakfast food is..."
